FINGER LAKES ESTATE & AUCTION COMPANY

W HEN FINGER LAKES ESTATE & Auction Company opened, owner Charlie Dorsey introduced Tompkins County to its first auction house in decades. "A lot of high-quality stuff was shipped out of the county to be sold," Dorsey says. Now, the Ithaca area has a solution: FLEACO, an acronym for the company that not only buys pieces, but auctions them, too - from individual items to entire collections.

FLEACO deals in coins, equipment, fine art (everything from local artists to potential Magrittes), jewelry, and furniture. A key staff member is certified appraiser, Steven Daly, of Ithaca Vintage.The response so far has been stellar.

"Whether settling an estate or just downsizing, one of the biggest mistakes people make is allowing their estates to be Picked," explains Dorsey. "Once the 'cream of the crop' is skimmed off the top, it's hard to draw a large audience." That's where FLEACO comes in. Using the Internet for leverage, FLEACO wields an international reach with caring attention to detail. This summer, a 1941 Cadillac sold

MIKE'S FISH TANK TANK CYCLING

WHAT IT MEANS WHEN WE say a tank has to cycle. There is a good bacteria that forms when fish are put into an aquarium. The bacteria that grows lives off the urine the fish produce, also known as ammonia. This bacteria eats the ammonia and converts it to nitrites. There is another bacteria that eats the nitrites, it is commonly referred to as nitrifying bacteria.That bacteria produces nitrates. The ammonia and the nitrites are the two things that are bad for fish.

The nitrates are not as bad and those you get rid of by doing a water change. Siphoning the bottom of your fish tank is important. 20% or so once a month will help keep nitrates in check.

Ammonia and nitrites can kill fish if they are too high. That is why it is so important to go easy on how many fish you put in a new tank. For example if you put 12 fish in a newly setup 10 gallon tank, thats 12 fish producing ammonia and with no good bacteria in your tank yet, they are swimming in high concentrations of ammonia. It also causes your tank to be cloudy. Do just a few fish until the ammonia eating bacteria has grown, then go slow until your nitrite eating bacteria has grown. all in all I tell people it's going to take 4 to 6 or 7 weeks until your tank is cycled and you have all the beneficial bacteria you need. MAINTENANCE TIPS FROM BELL'S

How to avoid Breakdowns?

The best thing you can do to avoid breakdowns is to perform regular scheduled maintenance. Such as changing your oil & filter every 3,000 miles. Catching any small problem before it becomes a big problem can save you lots of money. We can talk to you about known problems for your specific make and model as well as any maintenance required.

Having your oil changed is one of the most important maintenance procedures you can do for your car. If you follow good auto maintenance you will extend the life time of your vehicle by thousands of miles.

- Change regular oil every 3,000 miles.
- Change synthetic oil every 5,000 miles.
- Change your antifreeze every 2 years.
- Change your brake fluid every 2 years.
- Change your transmission fluid every 30,000 miles.
- Do scheduled 15, 30, 60 and 90,000 mile maintenance.
- Always check for potential problems before they happen.

Thank you to our customers for their patronage over the past 30+ years!
