MIKE'S FISH TANK BIRTH OF LIVEBEARERS

 ${\bf F}^{
m OR\ MANY\ TROPICAL\ FISH\ HOBBYISTS}, their first experience with baby fish is often through livebearers.$

Without much effort on your part, you may discover that the livebearers you brought home have given birth to a small batch.

Depending on water conditions, temperature, and diet, some livebearers can have broods as often as every four to eight weeks. You can tell if a female is ready to give birth by her enlarged abdomen or a dark spot located near her anal fin.

The spot will turn darker as her delivery date nears. But you must be watchful because some fish will eagerly eat the newly born baby fish.

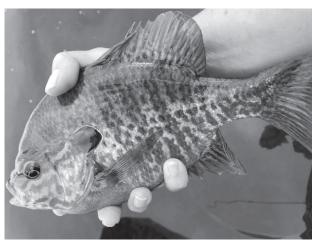

I have noticed that sometimes the fish do not eat the babies. Not sure why that is, but I have had baby fish here in tanks with bigger fish and they do not go after them at all.

They do make baby savers, which are small hanging nets or plastic boxes that you can put the baby fish into. This will prevent the adult fish or any fish in your tank from eating your baby fish. These savers are called breeder boxes or breeder nets. They are made in such a way that the box or net still has filtration and heat. Sometimes if you have a heavily planted tank, the babies will hide amongst the plants, but if seen by the bigger fish, they may get eaten.

The babies should be fed a quality food, such as baby brine shrimp, baby fish food, or quality flake food ground into a fine powder. Feed the fry small amounts several times a day. Maintain good water quality by performing regular water changes. Using water from your established aquarium is a great way to acclimate the fry to water conditions of their future home. In about 8 to 10 weeks,the babies should be large enough to release into the main aquarium. But be sure the babies have grown larger than the mouths of adult fish.

CREATURE FEATURE PUMPKINSEED SUNFISH

This time of year, it seems you can't go into a coffee shop or candle store without seeing pumpkin latte this or pumpkin spice that. So in keeping with this popular seasonal trend, let's learn a few things about the pumpkinseed sunfish. For starters, it's our state's most colorful fish, sporting brilliant shades of yellow, orange, turquoise, green and red. The average one is between 4-8" long. This feisty fish shares the same family with largemouth and smallmouth bass, and when its larger, more coveted gamefish cousins aren't biting, the pumpkinseed can salvage an otherwise dud of an outing for anglers. Most fishermen fondly recall that "sunnies" were the first fish they ever caught as kids, likely on a simple worm and bobber set up. They may also remember, less fondly, being pricked in the hand by the sharp dorsal spines along the fishes' backs. Pumpkinseeds are found in a broad range of habitats: lakes, ponds, rivers and even small streams. They school up in the shallows and aggressively prey on insects, crustaceans and small fish. Spawning occurs in late spring through early summer when the male creates the nest - a circular depression - by fanning his fins on the lake bottom. After the female deposits her eggs and departs, it is he who guards the eggs and newly-hatched young, some times for 3 weeks or more.

Johnny Cash. Elvis Presley. Jerry Lee Lewis. Carl Perkins. Four legends. One night! On December 4, 1956, an extraordinary twist of fate brought these four young musicians together at Sun Records in Memphis for what would be one of the greatest jam sessions ever. That incredible night comes to life with an irresistible tale of broken promises, secrets, betrayal and celebrations that is both poignant and funny. This award-winning Broadway musical features an incredible score of rock 'n' roll, gospel, R&B and country hits including Blue Suede Shoes, Great Balls of Fire, Walk the Line, Sixteen Tons, Who Do You Love?, Folsom Prison Blues, Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On, Hound Dog, and more!

Million Dollar Quartet is co-directed by CRT Producing Artistic Director Kerby Thompson and Todd Meredith, who will also serve as Music Director and play the role of Carl Perkins. Meredith has been previously seen at CRT playing the role of Buddy Holly in Buddy! and in the cast of CRT's production of Ring of Fire: The Music of Johnny Cash. Meredith first appeared as a CRT Performing Intern in 2006, and performed in Annie Get Your Gun, Murder on the Nile and It Runs in the Family. He is also familiar to CRT audiences as the founder and lead singer in "The Rave-Ons", a Buddy Holly tribute band which has performed numerous times at CRT Downtown, and bears the distinction of being the first performance at this new performing arts facility, playing at the

The rest of the cast of Million Dollar Quartet is primarily comprised of performers making their CRT debuts: Bobby Becker will portray the founder of SUN Records, Sam Phillips, the person widely considered to be the Father of Rock and Roll. Colin Barkell will portray Johnny Cash, Noah Jermain appears as Elvis Presley, and Actor's Equity Guest Artist Gavin Rohrer performs as Jerry Lee Lewis. Emily Seibert will play Dyanne, Elvis's date for the night. Rounding out the cast will be Michael Lucchetti as Fluke, the drummer and Nathan Yates Douglass as Perkin's bass-playing brother. Douglass was also previously seen at CRT in Ring of Fire $Wrapping\,up\,their\,behind-the-scenes\,summer\,work\,at\,CRT\,is\,Stage$ Manager Timothy James, Lighting Designer Eric Behnke, Props Designer Andrew Carney, and Sound Designer/Engineer Seth Asa Sengel. Caitlynn Barrett makes her debut as Scenic Designer and Colin Bradley Meyer makes his as Costume Designer. Brock Baird continues his summer as CRT's Technical Director.

The "Friday Night Talk Back" for this production will be held after the evening performance on August 30, at which a Q & A session with the actors, designers and crew takes place. Early Bird Subscriptions and Flex Passes for the 2020 Summer Season are currently available until October 4th. Call 800-427-6160 or visit www.cortlandrep. org for more information.

THE SHOPPES AT JOHNNY APPLESEED

Country road, is the location of a co-op style artisan marketplace, known as The Shoppes at Johnny Appleseed. Coming up on two years in business, the store is family owned and welcoming to many local crafters and artists. From big to small, the Shoppes host over fifty vendors in this historic and vast, Erieville location.

The history of Johnny Appleseed as an apple orchard and furniture store was well known, and upon re-opening in 2017, owners Florence, Patrick and Erica Gilmore had a vision of like-minded community and business owners working hand-in-hand, with enough freedom for each one to be unique, in a space that would be constantly changing and inspiring. According to Erica Gilmore, the building is especially suited to embrace and reflect original ideas and changing trends.

On any given day one of the over 50 vendors may arrive with new works of art and fresh inventory, available for tastes of all kinds. The Shoppes offer jewelry, pottery, home décor, furniture, antiques, women's clothing, primitive, modern, handmade, books, toys, quilts, cutting boards, vinyl records, wool and yarn, honey, candles, soaps, jams and jellies, CBD oil, wind chimes, silk flowers, willow furniture, and so much more!

When you come through the doors you will see outdoor furniture, lawn ornaments, birdhouses, hanging glass, artistic metal signage, wicker furniture, painted stones, wreaths, glass flowers and an Adirondack chair made of water skis, and this is only the front porch.

Since re-opening in June of 2017, the owners have been dreaming of a way to make Johnny Appleseed the household name it once was. Part of the Johnny Appleseed tradition is having good food at an affordable price. Inside the store, The Apple Kitchen, which is open on weekends, offers just that.

SECOND TUESDAY OF THE MONTH WINE CLUB

Three different soups are made each weekend, along with signature sandwiches like the Reuben with red cabbage, and the rich and cheesy Monte Cristo. Chef Patrick also creates fresh made desserts like apple crisp and carrot cake, along with award-winning Coffee Mania

Recently, the Apple Kitchen received their New York State farm wine license, and will soon be offering Orchard Ridge, their personalized brand of NYS wine, for sale in the glass and by the bottle. The Apple Kitchen will offer the wine, as well as six local craft beers on tap, spirits and mixed drink concoctions looking forward to the summer months.

The Shoppes at Johnny Appleseed are open year round, Wednesday through Sunday, and the Apple Kitchen is open weekends, with the hopes of having an outdoor patio ready by the two-year anniversary of June 2. Once the patio is open, the Apple Kitchen plans to extend it's days to Friday – Sunday, and extent it's hours as well, so you can enjoy wine and tapas well into the evening on the patio overlooking the pond. For a list of all the vendors to choose from, you can visit the web site at johnnyshoppes. com, or like the Facebook page, which is facebook. com/johnnyshoppes. more information on how to become a vendor, you can email johnnyshoppes@ yahoo.com.
