CORTLAND COUNTY PET OWNERS HAVE A NEW DOG & CAT BOARDING FACILITY

OP DOG KENNELS, LLC HAS opened recently in McGraw, ■ NY and is already busy caring for the dogs and cats of Cortland Counties pet owners ... and doing it in the vision of its owners, Laura & Craig Turner.

Laura, the president of Top Dog Kennels, LLC, shared that vision in three succinct points:

A BRAND NEW FACILITY - "We invested heavily in this facility and ended up with just what we wanted. We have the facilities to insure a healthy and happy stay to the pets entrusted to us and the tools to do it efficiently! Furthermore, it is a comfortable place to spend time ... both for us and our 4-legged guests!"

PERSONALIZED CARE – "My husband Craig and I will be the only ones caring for the pets staying with us. This will allow for a consistency in the care of the pets as well as clear and open lines of communication with the 'pet parents'. We have plenty of pet care experience and will provide a safe and loving environment for our guests."

EXCEPTIONAL SERVICE - "This is the third leg and as important as the other two. Everything at TOP DOG KENNELS will be done at the pet owner's convenience and by appointment. No rigid drop-off or pick-up schedules. When we are taking care of a pet owner, they are our only customer!"

Top Dog Kennels not only encourages people to call and schedule a visit, they require it for every dog before their first stay at the kennel. Craig Turner commented "this visit is important to the pet's comfort when they come back and allows us to make sure that we dedicate the right facilities, beds, bowls, etc. and have them ready upon the guests arrival!"

TOP DOG KENNELS is located at 3802 Clinton Street Ext. in McGraw, NY. Surprising to many is that this location is just 5minutes from I-81 at Exit 10. Call them at 607-218-4052 and find them on Facebook and at www.TDKkennels.com.

For more information contact Craig Turner at 607-218-4052.

POSO COAL INC.

 $386\,Gulf\,Hill\,Rd$ Freeville, New York

OSO COAL INC. IS PROUD to be entering its fourth season under new ownership. Coal is a great choice to heat your home both economically and for steady comfort. Anthracite Coal heat is a much more steady heat and generally only requires loading once every 24 hours as opposed to a wood burning appliance only burning for 6 to 12 hrs. Coal has nearly twice the BTU's of wood pellets and costs nearly the same per ton; meaning that if you burn 4 ton of wood pellets the same household would use about two ton of coal. Coal has got a bad name from the dusty old coal of the past. Today's coal is tested for carbon content and WASHED to get that excess dust off the coal from production. If you are thinking of switching or updating your heat source, please stop by our showroom and see the different options tailored to fit almost any heating need. We have freestanding stoves, furnaces and boilers of all different sizes. Some of the boilers and warm air furnaces also have the option of fuel oil/propane back up. We continue to pride ourselves on building relationships with our customers (old and new) and assuring their needs are met. We SERVICE what we sell! Please contact Shane Merriman at (607) 753-8603. We look forward to another successful season!

BIKING WITH YOUR DOG

O YOU MOUNTAIN BIKE? Do you have a good friend that watches you pull out the driveway as you leave for your ride? Your dog can also enjoy the fun and benefits of being in the woods and on trails as well. Dogs have a lot of energy and require exercise just like you or I. Depending on the type of dog you have will determine the extent of running he can do. Most medium to large size dogs from the hunting or working class groups (or a combination thereof) do well with biking. Obviously a little dog with short legs will have a tough time trying to keep up. If you have a four legged buddy you want to take out on the trail for the first time it would be a good idea to talk to your dog's veterinarian about what you have in mind and intensity of a trail run. Mountain bikes can move right along at a good pace and cover many trail miles. If the dog is just a puppy, it's recommended to leave him home until he is at least 6 months old. After he has gotten a little older, start your first slow and short ride someplace where you can work out the little details. Dogs are instinctively pack animals and if you lead they will follow. Since he will be off the leash for the ride/run he needs to know a few important commands. The most important ones are "stay" and "come". Control of Fido is very important because of all the distractions on the trail. Distractions come in many forms, such as other people and possibly their dogs, horses, deer and vehicles. If you start your ride from a spot near a busy road, it might be a good idea to keep him on a leash until you are ready to leave for the ride.

I have found another good way to break him in is to take him on a group ride with other well behaved dogs. He will most likely be so excited to be in the woods, around you and the other dogs that he will follow without question; again it's the pack idea. Before you hit the trail you should have a checklist for Fido. Your list should include a water bottle just for him, a leash, and some first aid supplies and maybe some treats to lure him back when he strays (a little piece of a peanut butter Clif bar is our dog's favorite). So, you and dog are headed down the trail, now what? Well you'll find that while you are following some kind of trail, your 4-legged buddy will be running from one side of the trail to the other, smelling all those scents that drive a dog nuts. Some dogs can put on half again as many miles as the rider, so keep that in mind when watching your mileage because he will have more. Most dogs will want to be out front, but because of their sniffing, they may lag for a few seconds and then come charging up thru. It's important for you to hold your line, because that is what the dog is expecting. A few things that the new trail dog must learn and that is to stay away from the bike's front wheel or even stopping in the middle of the trail, not good. Usually if you shout "Go!" works, but sometimes a collision happens. Both you and the dog need to be alert and aware of what is going on. Sometimes a friendly low speed bump from your front wheel to the dog's rump or tail can quickly bring this point clear. A few applications of this can burn it into his mind. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

There are some young dogs that have so much energy or get so excited when they get out on the trail that controlling them can be a real handful if not nearly impossible. You need to evaluate the excitable boy or in our case, Lula Belle. She came to us as a beautiful 2 1/2 year old rescue that needed more room to run and was well trained with an E collar. We have had great luck with our last two trail huskies but this one needs more attention before I felt comfortable with her just running free. The last thing I want is for her to take off and end up lost. Many people have had good luck with training collars for dogs "off leash" in the woods. Some people don't like them but a correction for unwanted behavior and when done properly they can keep the dog with you, safe and sound. With something like this it requires time and work but it may be the best way to train a stubborn dog. All E collars have a "beeping" option which is the desired end result form of correction. Discussing training collars would require more space then I have here and there is good info on the internet. SPORTDOG.COM is a good place to start.

Mountain biking with your dog can be a challenge, but patience and time will make it worth the effort. Just remember, that it will be difficult to pull out the driveway without taking your riding buddy along. If you are a cross country skier, this same kind of fun can continue when the snow flies.

Happy trails to you and your furry friends!

MIKE'S FISH TANK DJUNGARIAN HAMSTER

THOUGHT THIS WEEK YOU might be interested in an unusual and less common hamster, the djungarian. This hamster is ball shaped and typically half the size of the Syrian hamster. It is referred to as a dwarf. Features of the Djungarian hamster include a thick, dark grey dorsal stripe and furry feet.

As winter approaches, the djungarian hamster's dark fur is just about entirely replaced with white fur. In captivity this does not always happen. These hamsters originate from Dzungaria, Kazakhstan, Mongolia, Siberia and Manchuria. In 1968, the first four examples of the Djungarian hamsters were caught in Western Siberia and brought to Germany's Planck Institute.

Djungarian hamsters are more common as pets in Europe, but have become more popular in North America recently. Since becoming popular as pets, they exhibit a greater variance in coat color than those found in the wild. They reproduce often and have no fixed breeding season. Young pups will act aggressively towards one another and breeding females may show similiar aggression to males.

These hamsters come in many colors such as: pearl, sapphire, marbled, blue, camel, cream and just recently black. During Winter, the coat is more dense.

The average lifespan of the Djungarian is one to three years, although they can live longer. In the wild, they are known to live as little as one

The male is usually slightly heavier, but only by a few grams. Djungarian hamsters reproduce at a faster rate than other dwarf hamsters. They are able to get pregnant on the same day they give birth. This can all happen within a 36 day period. Frequent fighting can occur between pups as soon as they are weaned from the mother. Most Djungarian dwarf hamsters grow to 3 to 4 inches long. These hamsters do best when kept singly and can become very friendly and tame towards their keepers. We stock these hamsters, and most are born right here at our store.

CREATURE FEATURE KEEP YOUR COOL

Ever wonder how animals deal with the heat when the mercury rises? After all, they cannot retreat to an air conditioned room. Nevertheless, they have interesting ways to "keep their cool!"

Honeybees keep their hives cool by beating their wings to fan the larvae and one another. If they begin to overheat while collecting nectar, they look for a water source to take a dip (you may have noticed them taking advantage of your birdbath). Cold-blooded animals like snakes are at a higher risk for overheating due to their dependence on the environment for thermoregulation. When the temperatures soar, they seek out cooler places under rocks, inside logs or underground. Ducks have broad, webbed feet that help them to swim well while working to keep the birds from overheating. As they paddle around, blood vessels in the feet are exposed to water that is cooler than the air. Veins carry the cooled blood up the legs, while arteries carrying warmer blood travel down to the feet. This process is called a 'counter current.' Squirrels have sweat glands between their paw pads and their toes - who knew?! Owls and herons quiver their throat muscles to expose the membranes to the air, which helps with evaporative cooling.

How are you staying cool this summer?

LOST DOGS OF THE FINGER LAKES

Our MISSION AT LOST DOGS of the Finger Lakes is to help the lost become found. Recently, I spoke with a wonderful woman who had found a dog. We posted the dog on our page and while the owner was found and positively identified in a matter of a few hours, it was not before the finder received a handful of calls from other people professing to be the dog's owner. One caller even claimed to be the neighbor of the owner but when questioned, couldn't give simple identifying information.

But there are lessons here, and ones that we need your help in sharing far and wide. People with bad intentions for our beloved pets are watching our page and others like it. They also ride the roads looking for pets that aren't secured or being monitored. They are attempting to steal dogs or claim dogs that are not theirs and the reasons why are all bad; dog fighting, selling to labs for testing, adding to their hoarding collection, flipping...it's an endless and terrifying list.

What can you, as the finder or owner, do? First and most importantly (as we've always preached) call your local Dog Control Officer (DCO) and file a lost or found report. Calling your DCO is not optional - it is a legal requirement. This report helps you and helps your dog. It creates a legal paper trail that will help to identify your dog when found or will help to prosecute someone who may have found your dog....and kept them.

Second, this is for you the finder, when an individual calls or arrives to claim ownership, insist on proof. Ask for vet records, licensing documentation, or even photos. If the individual claiming ownership cannot show proof, call your local police department or DCO right away and let them sort it out.

Third, and this is for you the owner, make sure your dog is licensed and wearing their tags. This registration is required by law and serves as proof of ownership and is a vital link to getting your dog safely home should they ever become lost.

What can we, as a community, do? We can educate about the role of our DCOs and the importance of licensing. We can make sure that we're aware of the dangers out there for these dogs and protect them with everything we do. Thank you to all who share our posts...you've saved countless lives.
