You scan them in with the Liscio app. Your documents and tax returns are stored within this secure application.

Our firm accommodates both in-person and remote client interactions in a safe manner. However, we highly encourage everyone with a smartphone or computer to make use of our available technology to keep everyone as safe as possible while weathering the pandemic or for the convenience that current technology provides us.

The 1890 House Museum is a historic mansion located in Cortland, New York. It was built in 1890 for industrialist Chester F. Wickwire and was designed by architect Samuel B. Reed.

Chester made his fortune by establishing the Wickwire Brothers Company in Cortland, which mass-produced various wire products for rural Americans. Chester Wickwire lived in his home on Tompkins Street with his wife Ardell and sons Charles and Frederic from 1890 until his death in 1910.

The house lay dormant from 1915-1923 until Frederic moved in with his wife Marion, a local poet. Frederic and Marion made extensive renovations to the house, reflecting the elegance and flair of the 1920s. These renovations include the addition of the Fernery, the lincrusta wallpaper on the second and third floors, and the removal of the mantles over the house's fireplaces.

The 1890 House Museum is a true historic gem located at the gateway to the Finger Lakes Region. With its unique mix of Victorian and 1920s architecture and furnishings, this mansion is the ideal venue for annual events such as Gambling with Gatsby or our Victorian

COVID-FREE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

By Shana Karn, The Second Knob Gifts & Antiques 129 North St. Dryden NY 13053 / ph: 607-844-5662

THEN WE CLOSED OUR DOORS IN March, as the Governor ordered non-essential business to do, I truly believed that we would be open in just a few days-- that the shut-down was very temporary. While it was, indeed, temporary, it was far from the short break I assumed it would be.

We are tenants in our building. We do not own it and it quickly became clear that there would be no alternative to paying the rent. Our landlord allowed for the payments to be made late, thankfully, but there was no rent forgiveness. For a small business that suddenly couldn't operate, this was a frightening prospect and we had to do something to sustain our small store! After a lot of thought, we decided to try our hand at LIVE [VIDEO] Sales using Facebook as our platform. We set up hands-free payment options and coordinated curbside pick-up (masked).

Our first sale took place in early May and with the help of family members, we bumbled and stumbled through being on camera, showcasing items and giving our participants something to do during the COVID shut-down. The response and participation FAR exceeded our expectations and we breathed a small sigh of relief.

In June, with safety precautions in place, capacity restrictions and reduced shopping hours, we re-opened our doors. And customers drifted in and out. However, we repeatedly heard requests to continue with what had then become pretty well-known and successful "Live Sales!" So we did.

We scheduled sales every two weeks and continue to do so.

As COVID numbers are climbing, we are very aware of the possibility of another shut-down and, very honestly, really worried that it may happen during this last quarter of the year which, typically, produces 75% of our total annual income. Instead of slowing down and buying less, we've actually chosen to expand lines and local vendors. We've spent a lot of time perfecting our LIVE SALES (from start to finish!).

We aren't going to let COVID dictate the complete closure of our family store.

We KNOW that we can offer shopping safely and conveniently without a customer setting foot in the store. Still, we hope it doesn't come down to this. Better safe than sorry though...

So, how do the LIVE SALES work?

Part of what took the most time to convey was exactly what the LIVE SALE was and how it would work. It wasn't an auction or shopping a website. Instead, using the Facebook social media platform, we used the "LIVE VIDEO" feature and provided 2-hours of showcasing merchandise and offering special "Live Sale Deals!"

To sign in to participate, we asked customers to LIKE & FOLLOW our Facebook page, where we provided step by step instructions on joining. A big hurdle was recognizing that how a customer gets to the "Live Video" depends on whether they are on a computer or a mobile device! Additionally, what kind of computer/device or whether or not an app is being used meant different processes for finding us!

With a lot of guidance, we managed to get people connected!

So, how does the Live Sale work?

As our Live Sale merchandise is displayed, we read descriptions and provide regular and sale price AND we tell you how many of each item is available. Each item has a three digit ID displayed on the sale tag. Customers who see something they like simply comment on the feed: SOLD + Item number.

How do I pay and pick up my purchases?

At the end of the night and into the next day, we group sales by customer, ring them into the register and package them. We try hard to contact each customer within 24-48 hours to tell them their totals but some customers forget to send us their contact information, which makes outreach difficult.

Customers may pay via VENMO (a free cash transfer app), or over the phone by credit card. OR we accept cash/check/cc at the store at time of pick-up!

Since we are currently open 10-5 Thursday thru Sunday, customers pick -up merchandise on any of those days. If customers still want curbside pick-up, that is an option, too!

What happens when three people comment "SOLD" but there is only one item?

Thankfully, FB timestamps all comments for us. We simply determine who commented first, which dictates the "WINNER."

People seem to really enjoy shopping local, small business from the comfort of their own home and we truly enjoy helping them do so!

CREATURE FEATURE THE QUIRKY WILD TURKEY

THANKS TO REINTRODUCTION PROGRAMS AND better management, wild turkeys recovered from the brink of extinction. Here are a few lesser known facts about these iconic symbols of Thanksgiving.

Male turkeys get aggressive during mating season and have attacked automobiles, mail carriers and their own reflections. Those with longer snoods (droopy, red growths on their beaks) are more desirable to females.

You can tell the gender of a turkey by its poop! Male turkeys have J-shaped droppings, while the females have spiral-shaped droppings.

Mother turkeys only feed their babies (poults) for a few days, after which the young binge on insects. As they mature, they eat more plants including grasses, leaves, fruits, berries and seeds.

A social hierarchy is established among young turkeys and remains in place throughout their lifetime.

Adult wild turkeys have around 5,500 beautiful, iridescent feathers. In the early 1800's, John James Audubon was inspired to paint a life-size portrait of a wild turkey.

They may look gangly, but wild turkeys are swift, reaching upwards of 15 mph on foot and up to 50 mph on the wing. They roost in trees and can even swim. They also have excellent daytime vision – 3 times better than ours - and see in color. Be grateful for the quirky wild turkey!
